Youth Guidance Center Closing Update & Know Your Rights - Public Defender's Office - Patricia Lee, Juvenile Unit Managing Attorney & Chair of the Close Juvenile Hall Working Group - Patti is here today to share the SF Close Juvenile Hall Workgroup Update, started presentation with photos of current 150 room facility. The Close Juvenile Hall Ordinance mandates closure by December 31, 2021. The center has not hit capacity for well over 10 years. Shared starting point and article Vanishing Violence, reporting numbers in Juvenile hall and arrests have declined significantly over the last 5 years, particularly in California. The closure mandate was almost unanimously passed to provide a rehabilitative solution. Patti shared chronology, the group was established Jan/Feb 2020 and continued through the initial Covid-19 pandemic. Started subcommittees in June and July with assignments and work starting August. She shared subcommittees, data and needs assessment, programs/mental health, reinvestment and policy. Lately only 13-14 youth in custody, and low population of girls in custody. At some points of custody, all the youth demographics have been predominantly black/african american. Youth are only held there until charges adjudicated and sentenced back home or group homes, and rarely DJJ. Per Newsome, no more new sentences to DJJ in the future. Shared network cost of 24 million from city orgs to provide service to youth in the Juvenile System while one youth in custody is estimated to cost the city 270K. Remaining Subcommittees, Facilities and labor. Shared qualities of a youth development centered youth facility. Next steps shared. Some steps require court approval. Looking for Juvenile Justice system involved youth for feedback on systems. Increase diversion and restorative justice programming. Any funding needs to be redirected to the community. A few questions, has the rate of Juveniles being charged increased? the answer is no. DA is practicing not to refer youth to adult prisons. Age of youth in the system can be up to 25. Patti shares that there is still a real need to educate youth on their rights and constitutional rights under the law. Shared more about youth detainment and how an officer can release the young person at their discretion and how this can help a young person's future.
